

NOUVEL HAY MAGAZINE

SANS FRONTIÈRES

NASR presents / présente A l'université US Columbia , un mini symposium le 19 avril 2018 de
8pm à 9:30 pm

Thu., April 19, 8 pm: Armenian Studies at Columbia University - A MiSymposium

Armenian Studies at Columbia University A Mini-Symposium

Clockwise from top left: Delikanli, Hilton, Momjian, and Sekeryan

Speakers

- Eylem Delikanli, "Mapping Total Loss: The Armenian Genocide & Its Aftermath in the Parsagian Armenian Genocide Oral History Archive at Columbia University"
- Miles Hilton, "An American Missionary in Armenia, 1917-1919"
- Gregory V. Momjian, "Marketing the Armenian Massacres Door-to-Door: American Print Culture and the Commercialization of Galamty."
- Ararat Sekeryan, "The First Literary Responses to the Armenian Genocide: Shant Weekly and the Poems of Vahan Yardjianian, 1918-1919"

April 19, 8pm - 9:30pm
Columbia University, New York

Eylem Delikanli is the co-author of the oral history book Keşke Bir Öpüp Koldasaydım (with Ozlem Delikanli) about the 1980 Coup D'État in Turkey, published in 2013.
Miles Hilton is a software engineer with Lightwell, a creative and educational software startup. She was a John Jay Scholar at Columbia University, where she studied Computer Science.
Gregory V. Momjian is a 2017 cum laude graduate of Columbia College, where he majored in American History and was a member of the Louis Armstrong Jazz Performance Program.
Ararat Sekeryan is a PhD student in the Department of Slavic Languages and Institute for Comparative Literature and Society at Columbia University.

NAASR | www.naasr.org | hq@naasr.org

NAASR, 395 Concord Avenue, Belmont, MA 02478

SafeUnsubscribe™ r.bakian@gmail.com

Forward this email | Update Profile | About our service provider

Sent by hq@naasr.org in collaboration with

Constant Contact

Try it free today

Cliquez ici pour répondre au message ou le transférer

12,47 Go (83 %) utilisés sur 15 Go

Gérer

Conditions d'utilisation - Confidentialité

Dernière activité sur le compte : Il y a 12 minutes

Détails