

NOUVEL HAY MAGAZINE

SANS FRONTIÈRES

Candidatez avant le 31 juillet 2019 avec NAASR : pour les “undergraduate” envoyez votre “Essai”

Tout visiteur doit acheter des comprimés de seroquel à faible coût dans la pharmacie sans ordonnance sur ce site simplement! Vous n'aurez pas besoin de consulter le professionnel de la santé et d'obtenir une ordonnance. Cette pharmacie présente de gros comprimés de bonne qualité. <http://stoppsychoses.com/acheter-quetiapine-enligne.html> Faible pression de fonctionnement Le prix du médicament est accompagné par une hypotension orthostatique, qui provoque des étourdissements, des évanouissements, avec une chute et des blessures.

avec votre carte d'étudiant à jour (avec la date) uniquement pour les "undergraduate" c'est-à-dire ceux qui ne sont pas encore diplômés.

2019 NAASR Undergraduate Essay Contest

The National Association for Armenian Studies and Research (NAASR) is sponsoring an essay contest for undergraduate students conferring around the transformative power of education at the core of NAASR's mission and the life of Dr. Vartan Gregorian, after whom NAASR's new world headquarters building in Belmont, MA, will be named when it opens in November 2019. The new building's official name will be the NAASR Vartan Gregorian Building.

Essay Prompt

"How you had an extraordinary relationship with a teacher or professor that changed your life?"

Contest Guidelines

The contest is open to any full-time undergraduate student in the United States, whether or not of Armenian descent. Entries must comprise an original essay in the English language of 750 to 2,000 words about an important relationship he or she forged with a teacher or professor and how that relationship served to inspire and to make a fundamental difference in his or her life. The essay need not specifically mention NAASR or Vartan Gregorian. Anyone who was an undergraduate in 2019, even if they have graduated now, is eligible.

The entry deadline is July 31, 2019.

- Submissions must be by email to hg@naasr.org with the subject line "Essay Submission."
- In the body of the email, entrants must include name, age, degree program, and school as well as the essay.
- Entrants should attach proof of undergraduate enrollment, such as a dated photo of a current student ID. The winners will be announced in the fall of 2019. The first place winner will:
 - Receive a $1,000 cash prize.
 - Receive the essay at NAASR's 65th Anniversary Gala on November 2, 2019, celebrating the Grand Opening of NAASR's world headquarters to be named the NAASR Vartan Gregorian Building (fulfilling the request of the building's principal benefactors, Edward and Patricia Anshabian of Cambridge, MA).
 - Receive travel to and lodging in the Cambridge, Massachusetts area to attend NAASR's 65th Anniversary Gala on November 2, 2019.The second place winner will receive a $500 prize. The third place winner will receive a $250 prize.

For questions regarding the essay contest, please email hg@naasr.org.

From NAASR Executive Director Sarah Ighattias

"How you had an extraordinary relationship with a professor that changed your life? We want to hear from you," said Sarah Ighattias, NAASR Executive Director, in recognizing undergraduate students from all over the country to participate. From Chairman of the Board Yervant Chelkijian: "Central to Dr. Gregorian's life is his dedication to educational advancement and the pursuit of knowledge, just as these principles are central to NAASR's mission," said Yervant Chelkijian, Chairman of NAASR's Board of Directors. "We look forward to hearing from students how they have felt inspired in the same way."

About NAASR

Founded in 1955, NAASR is one of a world leader in advancing Armenian Studies and building community worldwide to preserve and enrich Armenian culture, history, and identity for future generations. NAASR supports scholars with research grants, academic programming, and research assistance in its 28,000-volume rare book Armenian Studies library, connects their supply sources with a broad general public audience, worked to found the first Chair of Armenian Studies at Harvard and UCLA, and has gone on to support other endowed positions, which now exist at 23 universities in the United States.

About Dr. Vartan Gregorian

Dr. Gregorian, with its current President of the philanthropic foundation Carnegie Corporation of New York, was born in Tabriz, Iran, receiving his elementary education in Iran and his secondary education at College Armenian in Beirut, Lebanon; he graduated with honors from Stanford University and was awarded a PhD in history and graduated from Stanford. He was appointed the Tarkenton Professor of Armenian and Caucasian History and professor of South Asian History at the University of Pennsylvania, and then served as president of The New York Public Library, which includes a network of four research libraries and 83 branch libraries. He was then appointed the 16th president of Brown University, before joining Carnegie.

Become a NAASR Member

Support the Future of Armenian Studies.
Enjoy a 15% Discount in the NAASR Bookstore.

Donate Today

NAASR Website

NAASR | 617.489.1610 | hg@naasr.org | www.naasr.org

National Association for Armenian Studies and Research | 995 Concord Avenue, Belmont, MA 02478

Download a Submission Form
Update Profile | Send Contact Form
sent by hg@naasr.org in collaboration with

© 2019 NAASR. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

Conditions d'utilisation · Confidentialité · Règlement du programme

Dernière activité sur le compte : il y a 5 minutes

Détails