

NOUVEL HAY MAGAZINE

SANS FRONTIÈRES

Mercredi 28 Octobre 2020 : comment l'art de la céramique a changé le visage de Jerusalem

Please join us on Wednesday, October 28, 2020, at 7:30 p.m. (Eastern) for a presentation by Sato Moughalian, "Armenian Ceramics: How the Art of a Genocide Survivor Changed the Face of Jerusalem." Sato Moughalian is the author of Feast of Ashes: The Life and Art of David Ohannessian. She will be joined during the Q&A by Marc Mamigonian, NAASR Director of Academic Affairs. The program is organized by the Schusterman Center for Israel Studies at Brandeis University and co-sponsored by NAASR.

To attend this Zoom webinar you must register in advance.

Zoom Registration link:

<http://tiny.cc/feastofashes>

ARMENIAN CERAMICS

How the Art of a Genocide Survivor Changed the Face of Jerusalem

Illustrated lecture with Sato Moughalian, author of "Feast of Ashes - The Life and Art of David Ohannessian." Ms. Moughalian will detail the lineage of her grandfather David Ohannessian's ceramic tradition, reconstructing her grandfather's history and legacy in Armenian pottery. All participants will receive a code for 20% off the book during the event.

Joining for Q&A: Marc Mamigonian, Director of Academic Affairs, National Association for Armenian Studies and Research (NAASR).

Free and open to all.
Details & registration (free)
<http://tiny.cc/feastofashes>

Ohannessian ceramics, St. John's Ophthalmic Hospital, Jerusalem, c. 1927
Image courtesy of Sato Moughalian / Photo: Ohan Kalukisa / Author photo: Ozer Kulamirac

October 28, 2020

7:30-8:45 pm EDT

Zoom event

<http://tiny.cc/feastofashes>

Click on image to connect to Zoom registration page.

