LARK

On this Holy Day, an appeal to the community.

After the unfortunate losses of landmasses in Artsakh, let's do our best to thrive culturally in our local community!

Dear friends,

We wanted to reach out and wish you and your family a very blessed New Year and a very merry Armenian Christmas. This past year has been most difficult and changed our collective way of life. From Covid at home to the war in Armenia, little has been spared. I better understand what it means to have love, hope, and faith, and feel especially blessed for this community of friends.

A New Chapter Begins for Lark

The Covid shutdown, while limiting Lark's activities, also allowed us to laser focus our efforts on the completion of the "Cultural Annex" project. An extension of Lark itself, the annex will be a gathering hub for the community to immerse themselves in Armenian culture and the arts, and a center for our students to engage with Armenian history as well as study and experience live performance. Thanks to CA State Assembly Member Adrin Nazarian and the state's grant of $500,000, we have completed more than a third of our project, which has a total budget of $1,500,000 dollars.

Our donor base will be instrumental in bringing this project to life and we are asking you for your support to see this new space completed in 2021. We believe this can be a year to put Lark on a new and exciting footing: expanding the reach of our mission to preserve and enhance the Armenian cultural legacy within the Diaspora, and providing the best classical music education for our students - an investment in the growth of children in our communities to become well rounded, intelligent, and creative leaders we will be proud of.

Lark's Cultural Annex – An Opportunity for Naming Rights

As shown in the "inspirational" renderings below, Lark's newly renovated center is innovative in design, with a modern sensibility, but a distinctly Armenian spirit. Welcoming guests will be three freshly commissioned bronze statues, made by expert artisans in Armenia. The statues depict Komitas, Mesrop Mashtots, and Saint Grigor Narekatsi, who stand as guardians of Armenian music, literature, and faith. On entering the building, visitors will discover walls lined with display cases and bookshelves showcasing treasures of historical interest and a library of Ancient Armenian manuscripts unparalleled outside of Armenia. The center will also house a state-of-the-art recording studio, opening avenues for in-house productions and new educational opportunities for our students in technical music and music production.

We are asking you to join this new vision of Lark's future by donating today. Help us expand our reach and establish our permanence in the community.
