

Armenia as seen by Entreprendre magazine

Entreprendre

On the night of September 12 and 13, Azerbaijan shelled several positions in eastern and southeastern Armenia. Armenia is responding somehow. Azerbaijan has gained ground. In all, nearly 500 dead on both sides, including villagers.

After the declarations of the UN, the European Union, France, the Vatican, and other countries, for a call for a ceasefire, and, apart from any condemnation of the Azeri invasion, Azerbaijan and Turkey are massing their troops to invade eastern and southern Armenia. Shedding light on an imminent invasion for Armenia, facing the rest of the world, which is looking... elsewhere.

By Antoine Bordier, special correspondent for Entreprendre magazine.

Photos A. Bordier, France-Diplomatie and Lydia Kasparian