

« Chaque enfant est unique » une conférence dont les recettes vont
au Fonds

Vendredi 16
octobre 2020

Every Child is Unique: How Temperament Influences Behavior

Friday, October 16, 2020 - 10:00 AM- 11:30 AM PST

Objectives:

1. Introduce the concept of temperament as inborn
2. To deconstruct the concept of temperament, identifying specific traits
3. Learn to work positively with all temperament types

Born and bred in Southern California, Dr. Shabazian received her B.A. in History and Psychology from UCLA, her MA from Harvard University, and then returned to UCLA to obtain an MA/PhD in Urban Schooling. She has also trained internationally and is committed to serving as a global educator helping elevate the lives of vulnerable children worldwide. After serving as faculty in the Applied Developmental Psychology Minor at UCLA and as the Executive Director of the UCLA Infant Development Program, Dr. Shabazian accepted a dual appointment at Loyola Marymount University (LMU) serving as a tenured Professor at LMU's School of Education and as Director of the Award Winning LMU's Children's Center. She has authored several textbooks and peer-reviewed articles and regularly presents at conferences both nationally and internationally.

Ani Shabazian, Ed.M., Ph.D.

Registration fee: $49

All proceeds go to the Armenia Fund via The Analysis Research and Planning for Armenia Institute (ARPA) to be earmarked for humanitarian relief efforts resulting from the war on Artsakh.

Register at: www.AngerManagementEssentials.com

Receive 1.5 CE's for CA BBS. PCE BOARD OF BEHAVIORAL SCIENCES PROVIDER APPROVAL #PCE 5126 - FOR MANDATORY CONTINUING EDUCATION UNITS

Contact: Anita Avedian, LMFT, for questions surrounding registration at (818) 426-2495

à 10h (locales)

19h à Paris