

L'église apostolique arménienne d'Abu Dhabi

We arrived at the church around noon, which meant that most seats were already occupied by fellow Armenians on this Easter Sunday. One of the first things that struck me was the surprisingly high number of Armenians living in Abu Dhabi and how they have all come from all corners of Abu Dhabi to the not-central-AT-ALL part of the capital, simply to celebrate Easter together. The Divine Liturgy, performed entirely in Armenian, was followed by an event during which every participant was given a beautiful keepsake for the home with the message "God Bless this Home," with the name of St. Nahadagadz Church written at the bottom.

The St. Nahadagadz Armenian Church in Abu Dhabi

source : Lily Galbraith / Armenian weely