Where there's health, there's hope

Help Artsakh families receive the health care they deserve.

Last year, over 100,000 forcibly displaced Artsakh Armenians fled to Armenia, presenting with a variety of physical, mental, and emotional conditions left untreated for too long. Fortunately, AGBU Claudia Nazarian Polyclinic was ready to serve this uprooted community, thanks to the support of donors to AGBU Global Relief Fund.

In addition to recruiting medical staff from Artsakh, expanding and refurbishing the premises, and extending service hours, the facility promises free annual wellness visits for the entire family, plus free medications from an in-house dispensary.
